Famous Pakistani Cuisines you'll try on this tour

Biryani: A fragrant and aromatic rice dish, Biryani is a symphony of spices, tender meat, and basmati rice, creating a culinary masterpiece.

BBQ: Pakistani BBQ is a carnivore's delight, featuring succulent kebabs and grilled meats, expertly seasoned and cooked to perfection.

Chicken/Mutton Karahi: Cooked in a wok-like utensil called "karahi," this dish features tender pieces of chicken or mutton immersed in a spicy and flavorful curry.

Mamtu (Dumplings): A delectable treat, Mamtu consists of delicate dumplings filled with seasoned meat, offering a burst of flavors in every bite.

Chowmush (Apricot Juice): A refreshing local beverage, Chowmush is a sweet and tangy apricot juice, providing a cooling respite in the warm Pakistani weather.

Chapshoro: Hailing from the mountainous regions, Chapshoro is a savory minced meat pie, expertly spiced and wrapped in a thin layer of dough.

Daal Curry: A staple in Pakistani cuisine, Daal Curry is a hearty lentil dish, seasoned with aromatic spices, and served with rice or bread.

Vegetables Curry: Bursting with the goodness of fresh vegetables, this curry is a medley of vibrant flavors and textures, perfect for vegetarians.

Samosa(Snacks): A popular snack, Samosa features a crispy pastry shell filled with spiced potatoes, peas, and sometimes meat, creating a delightful handheld treat.

Pakoray(Snacks): These deep-fried fritters, often made with gram flour, showcase a crispy exterior and a flavorful mix of spices, making them a favorite snack during tea time.

Indulge in the diverse and flavorful cuisine of Pakistan, where culinary delights range from aromatic biryanis to savory kebabs. With no limits on food, travelers have the freedom to savor the rich tapestry of Pakistani flavors, and can even personalize their meals to suit their preferences, ensuring a delightful gastronomic journey throughout the tour.
